[redacted] (requests confidentiality from all those outside the FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION) [redacted] after being advised of the identity of the interviewers and the nature of the interview, provided the following information during three interviews conducted between December 5 and December 7, 1988:

[redacted]
introduction to the appointee as having been at a political event which took place in 1974. [redacted]
[redacted]

When asked to characterize the appointee, [redacted] responded "he's an alcoholic - that's the long and short of it." [redacted] commented that [redacted] describing him as "a heroic figure who tirelessly poured himself out for his country." [redacted] related "he's manipulative; he watches all the time and says little - looks for chinks in your armor." Regarding his ambition, [redacted] stated "he has his agenda; he will achieve it; he's always wanted to be Secretary of Defense, (it's) an obsessive thing, a fixation." [redacted] mentioned that the appointee had even "courted" President REAGAN shortly after his election regarding the Secretary of Defense appointment, and never really openly supported GEORGE BUSH until recently. Regarding his personal habits, [redacted] stated "he's addicted to coffee; he's addicted to alcohol; he's addicted to cigarettes...he's driven by the needs of the body."

Regarding the appointee's reputation, [redacted] [redacted] believes the appointee to have been "revered" by those on Capitol Hill. Much later, when he told [redacted] that he would not be seeking reelection to his Senate seat in 1984, [redacted] queried him as to why? It was his impression that he would not be reelected into the leadership of the Senate, and "that, he couldn't have taken." When [redacted] asked him why he felt that way, his comment was "they don't like me." [redacted] noted that, during this decision-making process, his consumption of alcohol had picked up "enormously" in Texas on weekends and that he frequently was not in his hotel room at night. [redacted] believes that because his reputation for drinking and womanizing was well

Former SA [REDACTED] who is currently on the staff of the Executive Assistant to the Secretary of Agriculture, advised on 2/9/70, of the results of a conversation he had with [REDACTED] to Senator JOHN TOWER of Texas, at a recent social gathering. [REDACTED] mentioned to [REDACTED] that he had received an invitation to attend a reception at the Soviet Embassy, and that he probably would attend. When [REDACTED] told him that this matter might be of interest to the FBI, [REDACTED] said he would be glad to speak with a Bureau agent about it, and they agreed [REDACTED] would have someone from WFO call him.

Contacted by SA [REDACTED] on 2/11/70, [REDACTED] advised that he attended a reception held at the Soviet Embassy the previous evening attended principally by staff members of Senators and Congressmen. He estimated that there were about 250 persons in attendance at the affair, including wives. About 30 Soviets were in attendance, in his opinion. The affair consisted of a receiving line and cocktails with hors d'oeuvres, followed by the showing of two Soviet films, a low-key affair that was generally enjoyable.

[REDACTED] speculated that he had received his invitation to the reception as the result of some contact he had with Soviet First Secretary [REDACTED] some months previously. [REDACTED] had contacted Senator TOWER's office for assistance in arranging some contacts in Texas for a

On 5/3/84, Detective [redacted] U.S. Capitol Police (USCP), WDC, advised his office had been contacted by LILLIA BURT CUMMINGS, the wife of Senator JOHN TOWER, concerning harassing telephone calls. According to CUMMINGS, numerous telephone calls were being received at telephone number 232-2266, which is one of two private lines to the TOWER residence at 20 Kalorama Circle, N.W., WDC. (The other telephone number is 252-2500.) These phone calls allegedly consisted of Negro male or female callers asking for the PITTS MOTEL. Also, CUMMINGS reported incidents of the telephone ringing and no one being on the line, and of being able to hear other conversations on the line when she is speaking. [redacted] stated that C & P Telephone Security had apparently already been notified by CUMMINGS concerning these problems.

On 5/4/84, a meeting was held at the office of [redacted] C & P Telephone, 930 H Street, N.W., WDC. Present were [redacted] and the writer.

[redacted] explained what C & P Telephone was doing to deal with the complaints made by CUMMINGS. [redacted] advised that, on 3/8/84, his office received a telephone call from [redacted] Senator TOWER's [redacted] in which [redacted] requested [redacted] get in touch with CUMMINGS because CUMMINGS was having problems with her telephone system. CUMMINGS alleged she was hearing cross conversations, would get a signal on her call-waiting system that another call was coming in, and then would go to pick up the other phone only to discover no one was on the line, and she would hear clicks and other static on the line. These problems were experienced on the line corresponding to telephone number 232-2266.

A C & P Repairman was sent out to the residence on 3/8/84. The repairman replaced the installation wire and jack on the telephone, which could have been the source of the problem.

On March 7, 1978, U.S. Secret Service (USSS) Agent [redacted] Room 502, U.S. Courthouse, Fort Worth, Texas, advised that information was received from the Headquarters of USSS, Washington, D.C., that both President Jimmy Carter and U.S. Senator John Tower had been sent U.S. Postal Service postcards which were handwritten threats.
